NO. 15—NIAGARA FALLS

A Little Trip to Niagara Falls. What could be more fitting as a finale to this brief series of Little Trips in Big Canada than a visit to this world wonder magnet, along with the millions who have made it their mecca.

Niagara still holds its supremacy as the great cataract of the continent. Its wondrous beauty remains unchallenged through the years, indeed the centuries, and one may well worship at this great nature shrine. Each of the twin falls has its individuality—the unbroken sweep of white and green waters that make the American all changes in feature with every passing cloud of flood of sunshine with every recurring phase of day and night. Columns of fleecy spray rise from its basic rock of ages like incense to the accompaniment of the song of Niagara—deep-based and reverberating.

But it is the Horseshoe Fall that even more completely captures the imagination and holds the eye in thrall. The centering "v" is cutting deeper into the rock all the time, making a vortex into which the green blue flood glides rather than falls, creating a maelstrom far below.

One should view Niagara from all angles; from the mouth of the Canadian scenic tunnel as well as Table Rock; from the upper suspension bridge and the deck from The Maid of the Mist as it thrusts its bow into the cauldron near the base of the thundering cataracts. View them too at sunrise and sunset time, or when the moon adds its silver rays to the silver waters, or again when a storm bursts over the river and the wind driven clouds, of blackness mingle with the swaying columns of spray. Nature never repeats her wonders.

There is much more to see than some visitors miss, such as a walk or drive among the Dufferin Islands, amid Venetian scenes, or a drive over the superb boulevard that borders the Canadian shore of the historic international stream for many a mile to Port Erie. In the vicinity of the Falls, the Government Park is a smaller edition of Kew Gardens, in its rare shrubs, plants and flowers.

Next, follow the course of the river down stream to the lower rapids and the whirlpool, pausing for the exploration of Niagara Glen—one of the most unique natural areas in the country, where there are indications of prehistoric cataracts in water worn rocks and pot holes.

Finally return to the Falls again for a good bye look realizing anew that you are gazing upon one of the eight wonders of the world.

WOULD PUBLISH ADVANCE NOTICES OF MARRIAGES.

After a spirited discussion, the Social Service Council of the Church of England in Canada, in session at Toronto, voted to adopt a motion, by 24 to 10, calling for the publication of marriage notices one week prior to the ceremony. Bishop Sweeney, of Toronto, who fathered the motion, said that this would prevent hasty and ill-advised marriages.

TWO ARE KILLED IN HORRIBLE ACCIDENT AT LEVEL CROSSING

Andrew Yeager, Long Resident of North Grimsby, and Miss Hil-dred Eckhardt, Killed On Nelles Road—Lloyd Yeager in Hamilton Hospital, But Will Probably Recover—Bodies Terribly Mangled—Miss Eckhardt Did Not Regain Consciousness—Heavy Rainstorm Blowing Against Windshield Prevented Driver From Seeing Approaching Train.

Another horrible page was written in the accident history of Grimsby when Andrew Yeager and Miss Hil-dred Eckhardt were killed, and Lloyd Yeager was seriously injured in a level crossing accident, on Nelles Road, on Friday, October 7, 1921. The crossing is not provided with gates, but has an electric bell that rings when trains are approaching. The Yeager auto was proceeding south and reached the tracks just as the train dashed past. The train was a fast one and was going at a high rate of speed. The first intimation the engineer received of the auto was when it was directly in the path of the oncoming flyer. He immediately applied the brakes, but the motor car was hurled a considerable distance. Andrew Yeager was quite dead when picked up, and Miss Eckhardt died in the Grimsby station. The train crew immediately rushed to the injured and placed them on the train, which was backed up to the Grimsby depot. Doctors Alexander, Gosner and McEay were summoned, but Miss Eckhardt, though still breathing, was beyond help.

man aid and the attention of the physicians was mainly concentrated on Lloyd Yeager.

The west bound way freight was at the station at the time, and the caboose was detached and the young man rushed to the Hamilton General Hospital.

The bodies of Andrew Yeager and Miss Eckhardt were removed to Irwin & McFarlane's funeral parlors, and Dr. Alexander, Coroner, empaneled a jury, consisting of W. J. Drope, foreman, R. Harvey, Charles Taylor, H. C. Caldwell, W. C. B. Manson, William Hand, Herbert L. Hagar, A. H. Russ, L. A. Wade, A. E. Howard, W. A. Patterson and J. H. Gibson. The jury viewed the remains and the scene of the accident on Saturday morning, and adjourned until Friday, October 14, to permit of better knowledge of the condition of the injured man.

There was a blinding rainstorm at the time of the accident, probably the main reason for not seeing the approaching train, and the patter of the rain on roof and curtains would prevent the hearing of the signal bell.

POINTERS ON THE DOMINION ELECTIONS ACT

The importance of understanding the provisions of the Dominion elections Act in reference to the preparation of voters' lists, is being impressed upon all election officials by the Chief Electoral Officer, Col. O. M. Biggar, in his instructions which will be forwarded to election officials and candidates as soon as the writs for the forthcoming general election are issued.

Provision was made in 1920 and 1921 amendments to the Dominion Elections Act for the use of provincial lists, where such exist, and where these have been compiled within two years of the date of holding the federal election. In this way, it was pointed out in the House, there would be a saving of many thousands of dollars to the Dominion. The provincial lists, where such exist, are used as the basis for the new federal lists and names are added or taken from the lists as necessary to bring them up to date.

Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island are the only two provinces where no such lists are available. In Saskatchewan, it is stated, there are no officials in charge of voters' lists to whom the Dominion authorities can apply for copies, and Prince Edward Island has no provincial voters' lists. In Ontario the lists used in the 1919 election are out of date, all of them dying out before a federal general election could be held, but there have been other lists made up since in this Province which will be the basis of the new federal lists.

Section 32 of the Dominion Elections Act, which covers the making of lists of voters, provides for the use of provincial lists not more than two years old. Where these lists do not exist, it is set forth that entire new lists must be prepared. The rules governing personal registration of voters and revision, applicable only to urban polling divisions, provide for the appointment of one registrar in each city, town or incorporated village with a population of from 2,500 to 4,000 persons, and one for each additional 400 persons. The registrar is appointed to sit for six consecutive days (except Sunday), for the purpose of registering voters as required by the Act.

Applicants for registration must take an oath or affirmation and answer such questions as are provided for in the forms supplied to the registrars. The registrar has the right to refuse applicants if he considers that they are not entitled to registration. If he does so, however, the refused applicants has a right to demand a certificate of such refusal which must state the reasons for refusal together with other particulars.

Rule 5 which is of importance to the general public, states that "if any person who claims to be entitled to be registered is unable personally to attend the registration sittings by reason of sickness, disability, or necessary temporary unavoidable absence from the city, town or incorporated village wherein he is entitled to be registered, or another person who is a relative or employer of such first-mentioned person and who has a personal knowledge of the facts, may appear before the registrar, under oath or solemn affirmation, and answer the questions contained in the interrogatories contained in Form No. 15 of this Act and if he substantiates (a) the cause of absence to be such as is in this rule set forth and (b) all things requisite to the registration of such first mentioned person, saving personal appearance, that person may be registered as if he had personally appeared."

In cities and towns classed as urban districts, it is pointed out, only those may vote whose names are on the lists, therefore it is important to voters that they see the voters' lists as soon as these are issued and if their names are not included, make application for registration as provided in the Act.

The revising officer is appointed to go over the lists prepared by the registrar. Any persons who have been refused registration by the registrar may make their appeal before the revising officer, and in the case of anyone applying to have his or her name added to the lists it is permissible to add that name at the discretion of the revising officer, whether or not the application had been previously made to a registrar. The revising officer is also given power to strike names off the lists where he is satisfied that such should not be included, and to correct any errors he may find.

It is provided in the Act that the work of revising the lists shall be undertaken by the following:

In the judicial districts of Quebec and Montreal, province of Quebec, by the judge from time to time performing the duties of the Chief Justice or Acting Chief Justice thereof. Elsewhere in the province of Quebec by Superior Court judges of the districts, and by the Senior Judge if there are more than one.

In the Yukon Territory by the Judge of the Territorial Court. Elsewhere by the senior judge of the County of District Court. These judges are given power to appoint substitutes to do the work for them, and it is provided in the Act that these substitutes shall have all the powers of a judge of a court of record.

For rural polling divisions it is provided that one registrar for each division shall be appointed. Beginning fourteen days before the date of polling, the rural registrar is required to open sittings for the purpose of revising the lists as may be necessary and to continue these sittings for five days. Up to the tenth day before polling, the rural registrar, if he is satisfied that there are names which should be added to or struck off the lists in his division, is required to make these alterations.

Rural voters, whose names are not on the lists, may have them added on polling day. They must, however, be vouched for by an elector whose name is on the lists and who resides in that polling division and also must be sworn as required under the Act. Would-be voters who refuse to be sworn are not allowed to vote, under the Act. Provision is also made in the Act respecting women naturalized, by marrying British subjects, though not themselves naturalized, that they must secure certification from a judge having jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings, before they become entitled to vote.

There is no change in the provisions requiring posting of the voters' lists so that every voter may have an opportunity of seeing that his or her name has been included in the list for his or her polling division.

Erland Rawson who has been traveling in the west for some time past, spent a few days at GRIMSBY East last week.

Thomas Taylor is in New York City taking in the World's baseball series. Mr. Sheldrick has returned from Toronto for the winter.

A needed warning is handed out to speeders across the G. T. R. tracks at GRIMSBY East. The watchmen have been taken off for the winter.

Mr. Winters of Park Road has returned from a motor trip to Brockville.

Building and house transfers are much in evidence here. G. F. Lambert has just finished a house for Earl Burdette, and has sold his own house to Mrs. R. E. Woodruff and will build at once on Central avenue. James Marlowe has started a new house on Marlowe avenue which will be for sale or rent when completed.

GRIMSBY East lost a valued citizen on Thursday, October 6, 1921, when Alexander Crittenden passed away in his 80th year, at the home of his son G. W. Crittenden. The late Mr. Crittenden had been in ill health for some time. He was a native of Kewick, Ont., and since coming to GRIMSBY East, had been an active member of St. John's Presbyterian congregation. To mourn his demise he leaves a brother Andrew of Edcar, Ont., one son G. W. of GRIMSBY East and one daughter Mrs. William Tuck of Ogenia, Sask. The funeral took place on Monday, Oct. 10 to Queens Lawn cemetery the Rev. L. H. Currie officiating at the house and graveside. The pallbearers were A. W. Kleckmer, Wm. Durham, W. A. Coon, James Marlowe, A. Carlisle and Thomas Little.

G. W. Crittenden arrived home from Weyburn, Sask. on Sunday evening. E. G. and Mrs. McCallum returned home last week from a most enjoyable motor trip to points in Eastern Ontario. They motored down the American side through New York State and came home through Ontario. They were interested spectators of the big $5000 race between Single G. 1:59 and Romala 2:03, at Cherterville.

Many complaints are being made by residents who have to use the cement sidewalk running past the farm of Hamilton Fleming, regarding the low hanging branches of the cherry trees that border the sidewalk at this point. On sunny days it keeps one busy to walk along here without knocking their hats off and on rainy days it is impossible to carry an umbrella upright. It is understood that the Provincial Highway authorities are now the owners of these trees and if so, they should have them trimmed up.

JOHN H. KRATZ DIES AT VINELAND

John H. Kratz who has been for many years connected with the mercantile lumber business of Canada, passed away at his home in Vineland about 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Kratz, who has interests in many of the large lumbering companies of Canada, has made his home in Vineland, but spent much of his time in other parts of the country, looking after his business interests and his advice has always been considered as being very sound.

He is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. Erza Rittenhouse.

It is well to have money in a Savings Bank and get 3% or 4% on it. Nobody will find fault with your prudence.

But when you consider that Governments are borrowing money at 6% and higher and that there are enterprises in which you can invest with equal safety and get 8% on your money, surely it is the height of prudence to look into such investment offerings.

A case in point, and one worthy of your immediate attention, is the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, Montreal.

This enterprise is the largest of its kind in the British Empire. There is no city in Canada where the need of such an hotel is greater, and where the earning powers of the hotel is more certain than in Montreal.

Montreal is our greatest ocean port; it is our greatest transcontinental terminus and the centre of all Canadian tourist traffic from the Eastern and Southern United States. For these reasons, then, we recommend those who have the money to consider immediately the investment of a portion of it in the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited.

By all the estimates which the United Hotels Company of America have prepared, the earnings will be not only ample to pay the interest on the Debentures, but there should be a very substantial margin available for dividends upon the Common Stock which is now given as a bonus. For, remember, King Edward Hotel Common Stock (another United Hotels enterprise) is now paying dividends at the rate of 10% per annum, although it, too, was also given away as a bonus three years ago.

In short, you may invest in the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, with the assurance that your money is safe—your 8% interest certain and your prospects good for a nice profit from your Common Stock Bonus.

The price of the Debentures is par, carrying a 30% Common Stock Bonus. Send your order now or write for full particulars. Address:

District Summary

News of the District Culled From Our Exchanges

St. Catharines building permits for September totalled 104,505.00.

Stoney Creek has a newspaper, called the Courier. It is edited by John H. Lee.

The Oakville Record has changed hands. W. Nelson Wilkinson, a Toronto newspaper man taking it over from W. J. Flenty, who has conducted it for the past fourteen years.

St. Catharines Standard—September was the greatest month in the history of the local police court so far as paying money into the city treasury is concerned. There were 212 cases, big and little on the blotter, and the local treasury was enriched to the extent of $3,557. Included, in this was one fine of $1500 which ran the total up pretty well. There have been bigger months in the police court, but most of the fines for breach of the Ontario Temperance Act went into the provincial treasury.

Niagara Falls, Ont.—Imports by way of the port of Niagara Falls, as shown by the Customs reports, show a great decrease over the corresponding period of last year. The figures are: September imports, 1921, $87,568.10; excise tax, $9,746.07; total $97,314.17. 1920, imports, $170,708; excise tax, $13,603; total, $184,312. During the month of September the local immigration officials rejected 368 seeking admission into Canada and admitted 143. For the corresponding month of last year the figures were 379 rejected and 178 admissions.

Thorold.—Rev. Monsignor Sullivan, for fifty years the pastor of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary, at Thorold, has announced that he will retire after the celebration of his jubilee service in November. In making the announcement Father Sullivan stated that the parish of Thorold had become one of the most important in the archdiocese of Toronto. The great increase in population made it necessary to celebrate three masses every Sunday. Eight languages were spoken in the parish and the large attendance at the schools—more than 400—with the supervision necessary, required the energies of a younger man, not one nearly eighty years of age. Father Sullivan's parishioners sought to have him remain in the parish, but it is his intention to make his home at St. Augustine's Seminary, Toronto.

Mr. A. Craise, ex-Warden of Lincoln and well known resident of Louth township, suffered a painful accident recently when in cranking his car the handle slipped striking his wrist with such force that a compound fracture resulted. Mr. Craise was leaving the office of Dr. Greenwood when the accident occurred, and immediately returned. The doctor found the injury so complicated and painful that he had the patient removed to the General and Marine hospital where an X-ray examination was made. It will be some time before Mr. Craise can regain the use of his arm.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—A statement handed out last night by the Department of Railways and Canals says: The Government has decided to postpone for the present the call for tenders for Sections Three and Four combined, of the Welland Ship Canal, which is the subject of advertisement at the present time. When the decision was reached to advertise this work, the possibility of an immediate election was not taken into account. The contract is one which will involve probably sixteen million dollars, and the Government feels that the letting of such an important contract between dissolution and the date of election might be open to objection hence the decision to postpone the call for tenders and continue the work for the present on force account.

Bridgeburg, Oct. 1.—The Fort Erie Board of Trade has just passed an important motion in an effort to relieve the employment situation in the adjacent town, asking that the Canadian Niagara Boulevard be extended from its present terminus at Fort Erie to the site of the Old Fort, about two miles distant. This, the Board of Trade points out, would relieve much of the unemployment now in existence. The Council has received advice from the Queen Victoria Park Commission that, providing Fort Erie is willing to pay about $14,000, one-third of the estimated cost the commission will be glad to undertake the work. Whether the Fort Erie Council will decide in favor or not is not yet definitely known, but it is believed, as a measure of economy, it will decide against it.

"Bad and scandalous" was the way Magistrate Goodwin characterized the action of Ernest Taylor, the Chief of Police at Beaverboard, Thorold township, who admitted that he had given a revolver to Geo. Clark, a spotter, knowing that he was under

—ADVERTISE IN THE INDEPENDENT.—

Where Do You Shop?

Do you shop in a brisk, active store, or in a dull store?

Advertising makes bright stores. Failure to advertise goes hand in hand with dullness and stagnation.

Advertising brushes away cobwebs and dust, smartens shop windows, quickens the intelligence of salesmen, and lets in the sunlight.

Advertising makes the merchant think for you—of your wants and needs; makes him anxious to serve you to your liking and advantage.

Advertising keeps stock from having birthdays.

Advertising acquaints you with new things, and so brightens your home, your life, your person.

Advertising keeps a business from growing lazy and stupid. Advertising injects good red blood into the arteries of a business, and keeps it healthful and active.

Shop where your wants and needs are uppermost in the mind of the merchant. Shop in the store which reflect you, which you dominate. Shop where your money returns to you in better goods, better values, better service.

Shun the shop that is dumb and dark and dreary; keep away from the shop that never speaks to you, never smiles at you, never bothers about you.

Reward by your custom the merchant who lives to serve you, and who is doing his utmost to build up this community; who takes you into his confidence by means of advertisements in your local newspapers.

Smile back at the shop which smiles at you. Shake hands with it—keep company with it—your favor will be returned to you tenfold.

THE FRUIT-TREE BARK-BEETLE OR SHOT-HOLE BORER

The Fruit-Tree Bark-Beetle, better known as the Shot-Hole Borer, appears to be unusually abundant this year on fruit trees, particularly on cherry and peach. The presence of this insect is indicated by numerous small holes in the trunks and branches and, in the case of stone fruits, its work is rendered conspicuous by the masses of gum which exude from the holes made by the beetles. This summer the beetles have been commonly found on cherry trees boring into the spurs which bear the leaf clusters, causing in this way what some growers have referred to as a new "fire-blight." Similar leaf injury has been observed on apples and peaches.

The Shot-Hole Borer breeds only in dead or dying trees and branches, but it will attack healthy trees and may weaken them to such an extent that, within a season or two, if nothing is done, they will become suitable for breeding purposes and may be killed outright.

Control

The most important point in connection with the control of this insect is the elimination of breeding places. All dead and dying fruit trees and wood and all trees in too poor condition to be of commercial value, should be removed before they become centres of infestation. Wood piles (trimmings and dead trees from fruit orchards) constitute a source of danger. Such wood may be burned in the stove during the winter, but it must all be destroyed before June, at which time the first generation beetles commence to appear. In several instances investigated this year, the main source of infestation proved to be infested brush piles.

Trees slightly injured by the beetles may be saved by rather severe pruning thorough cultivation and the application of some quick-acting fertilizer.

An application of thick whitewash on the trunks and limbs is of great value in warding off the attacks of the beetles. The whitewash should be applied before the beetles appear in June, and if necessary another application should be made about the first of August. The addition of one-quarter lb. salt to every pail of the wash will add to its sticking qualities.

In view of the fact that the Shot-hole Borer cannot breed in healthy trees, all fruit trees should be kept in a vigorous, healthy condition by proper cultivation, pruning and spraying.
